

Discussion Questions - The Friend

- 1) What did Skye want more than anything?
- 2) How are we like Skye?
- 3) Who does the Friend represent in our real life?
- 4) What gifts have you received from the invisible Friend?
- 5) How does our Friend primarily write to us?
- 6) What does placing a letter symbolize?
- 7) After reading this story, how would you treat a furry or LGBT+ student?
- 8) Who are the friends of the Friend in your life?
- 9) How can you live boldly for Jesus as the characters did for the Friend?
- 10) What is the most important gift the real Friend offers?

This last question brings us back to what I would tell Skye. I would say to her, “It’s great you have this awesome best Friend now, but you need something far more than a BFF. You need a Savior.

“The name of your invisible Friend is Jesus. First and foremost, he wants to be your Savior.”

“If you simply ask him, your Best Friend will pay for your sins by his sacrifice on the cross. Receiving God’s forgiveness through Jesus is the first step in your incredible journey.”
That is what I’d tell Skye.

This allegory is about finding an incredible best friend who always stands by our side. Still, it falls short of the most essential message—we first need a Savior.

Jesus is both Savior and Best Friend. Dear reader, don’t miss out on either of these offers. Receive Jesus as Savior and Friend today. You will also inherit a vast family of fellow believers who are called to love you until the day you graduate to Paradise. Please reply to the real Friend and begin your adventure with him. There is no better life.

“No one has greater love than this - that one lays down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command you. I no longer call you slaves, because the slave does not understand what his master is doing. But I have called you friends, because I have revealed to you everything I heard from my Father.” John 14:13-15
